Flauta AMÉRICA

Producto nº

179

Native American flutes are different with every tribe across the Americas. This is but one typical design which utilizes the often highly decorated "bird" for the fipple structure.

Don't expect to play European melodies on this instrument, however, because the scale is not the "do-re-mi" standard. This flute produces the wistful sounds of the earliest Americans.

Range: free tone scale
Woods: cedar Dimensions: 21" long
