Cheval Mirror is destined to be of our most popular kits in recent years. It is big enough to mirror the image of even the largest person. These mirrors are a must for bedroom or dressing room because they are something that can be used every day whether dressing for work or an evening event. The top design it takes from a 17th Century William and Mary original and incorporates opposing unicorns facing a crown. A laser will do the hard work for you by making a flawless cut on each of the tops. The original, of course, was cut by hand as was our prototype.

Available in Mahogany or Cherry,
the mirror is included.
Measures 25 1/2"D x 25 1/2"W x
71"H

In the early part of the 18th century, the shape of mirrors evolved to where the long glass became standard, crests became higher and the fretwork shaping became more intricate. 250 years later, this form of mirror is still one of the most popular. Our Fretwork mirror is precisely copied from an exquisite original made in England in 1760.

Available in Cherry, Mahogany or Curly Maple (as shown), the mirror measures 40 1/2"H x 22"W. The glass is 1/4" thick with a 1" bevel.
